

Women's Health 2011: The 19th Annual Congress

and the Annual Meeting of AMWA

April 1-3, 2011
Crystal Gateway Marriott
Washington, DC

The Annual Women's Health Congress is known for its focus on a broad range of topics relevant to Women's Health across the lifespan. Educational objectives will be met by didactic plenary sessions, with ample time for questions and answers. A comprehensive course syllabus is provided to all registrants on CD.

This program is unique in many ways. It brings together renowned senior faculty who are leading experts in their fields and a diverse audience that is representative of many disciplines, many professions, and many fields, all dedicated to improving the health of women. It covers cutting edge research and the most current diagnostic and therapeutic recommendations to promote excellence in clinical care and addresses all facets of women's health.

This year's conference is again replete with expert speakers from around the country and will cover a wide range of topics including:

- Urinary Incontinence: Never an Acceptable Consequence of Aging
- Maternal Health in the Third World: A Report from the Front Line
- Osteoporosis Management in Post-menopausal Women: New Advances and Old Dilemmas
- Cesareans, VBAC and Lessons Learned
- Vitamin D & Omega-3: Separating Fact from Fiction
- Sleep in Women: Clinical Pearls
- Thyroid Disease in Women: Common Dilemmas
- Intrauterine Contraception: An Update
- Women and Diabetes: Best Practices
- Current Controversies in Ovarian Cancer
- Cardiovascular Risk Reduction in Women
- Breast Ultrasound & MRI: Which Study, Which Patient

Scientific research posters will also be presented daily. Further exciting program details will be forthcoming.

We are again collaborating with the National Cancer Institute, the NIH Office of Research on Women's Health, the American Medical Association, and, once again, will host the annual meeting of the American Medical Women's Association.

Stay tuned for program details and registration information, to be posted in the Fall. The Women's Health 2011 Congress will be better than ever. Do not miss this most important educational opportunity to advance women's health!
